|                          | Adult            | Jack's Place    | Dan Girouard                   | "The Apologists and the Formation of Orthodoxy"In the early centuries of the Christian era there arose a class of teachers and authors referred to as Apologists. As Christianity struggled to be established as an authoritative and respected religion in the Roman world, these men were the defenders of the faith. They drew the boundaries between heresy and official doctrine of Christianity. They established the orthodox, "the correct", teachings of Christianity. But did they?     |
|                          | Adult            | Cascade Falls   | Norm Edwards                   | The Maturing Believer—Scripture and discussion for maturing brethren whose children (if any) are largely on their own. What is our purpose and our focus? God allows our strength, stamina, memory, sight and other abilities to gradually deteriorate—not so we can spend the rest of our lives fretting about them and trying to stop it, but so we can turn over life's responsibilities to the next generation, and so that, in many cases, the generation we once cared for can care for us. |

| Wednesday10:15-11:15 AM | Adult            | Marquette       | Norm Edwards                   | Dreams, Visions and Revelations - Most of us have learned that the understanding of the Bible need not come through the teaching of a large church organization, but can come from our own reading, prayer and the "ironing sharpening iron" of our fellow-believers. Similarly, revelations from God are not reserved for church leaders, but are found among many who are doing His will. Divine guidance will be much more important in the difficult times ahead. Come to share the Scriptures and your experience. |
